THE EVENTS

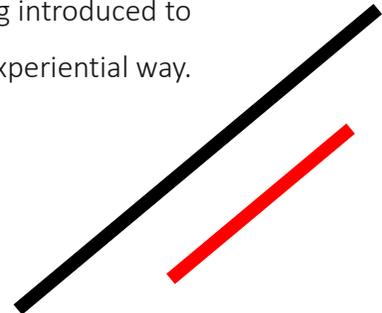

Our team of foodie and drinks lovers are interested in writing and sharing content about what's new. Gone are the days of freebie invites for a normal lunch or dinner, Bloggers are looking towards more fun and interactive ways to discover what you do.

We enjoy The Pulse events organized for us, we are always looking forward to what comes next.

Jesus – Lifestyle Blogger

Masterclasses have proven to be a success because most of the time they are networking with other Bloggers they know. Having fun with like-minded people and also being introduced to something new in an experiential way.

It was fun teaching the Bloggers about Dim Sum. I am passionate about Asian food and was happy to share my experience.
